Given that the Secretary of State insisted that this Local Plan was submitted for examination, it is hardly surprising that one of his Inspectors has found it acceptable which is a disgrace and not local democracy at all.

At a time when we have all understood the value of green space, it is absurdly wasteful of our scarce land resource not to be pursuing more consistent and ambitious housing density targets.

Together with other Local Plans across Oxfordshire, over 20,000 houses (development equivalent to a third of Oxford City) have now been given the go ahead within the Oxford Green Belt.

For South Oxfordshire, where over 70% of the housing and 85% of the strategic allocations are within the Green Belt, the case of 'exceptional circumstances' to justify Green Belt development is laughable when clearly it is being considered the norm.

SODC should stand up against this not sit back and take it. Its one of the reasons councillors were voted in.

Q8. If your comments are more than 500 words long, please use the space below to provide a summary. You are not required to summarise your comments, but a summary would help us in our reporting.
