Willow Close is not suitable for the new proposed relief road. The originally marked road, that was previously agreed on, is the ideal place to run the road, allowing traffic to by-pass Watlington town centre and connect the newly build developments. These developments can then be planned around the road in a safe way, as most sensible modern developments are. Running a busy road in to a currently quiet residential area does not make sense. The road at willow close and the roundabout are not designed to take high levels of traffic. There are many young families and children using the road and surrounding pavements.

Q8. If your comments are more than 500 words long, please use the space below to provide a summary. You are not required to summarise your comments, but a summary would help us in our reporting.
